

WORLD BOOK DAY fest

HAPPY,
A BIG, BOOKY
CELEBRATION
OF READING

Wow, what a day we have had at Risdene Academy to celebrate World Book Day. All the children came dressed in a fantastic array of different book character costumes and there was an overwhelming response to the design a wooden spoon book character competition. The talent and creativity of our children, and parents, is phenomenal as you will see from our display in the school entrance.

Undeterred by the snow and blizzard conditions outside, inside the day began with a buzz and excitement within the hall, when the whole school came together to learn about 'The Fantastic Flying Books of Mr Morris Lessmore.' This sparked our imagination and set our creative writing juices flowing, with classes producing amazing descriptive writing pieces, based on scenes from the story.

During the day, the children surpassed themselves when they demonstrated great PRIDE, excelling in their teamwork skills as they worked with children from different phases for a paired reading session and to create the illustrations for a mini story. It was fantastic to see the children animated about the characters they had created and delightful to see children enjoying a good book together.

It was certainly a magical day full of imagination, creativity and above all a love of books, as you will see from all of the photographs.

Our transformed wooden spoons into book characters.
